Services Price Adjustment Notice

(as of May 1, 2023)

Dear valued customer,

we have kept our prices for our services (i.e., analytical, certification, and assessment services) at the same level for years. However, with the increased costs of energy and particularly chemicals and laboratory materials, we can no longer sustain this level.

We regret to advise, that we will have to adjust the prices for all our services by 10% as of May 1, 2023.

We do this also to continue to serve you with the same short turn-around times and to work towards expanding our services in the future.

We thank you for your understanding and look forward to your continued trust in our Research Center Weihenstephan.

Please don't hesitate to contact us via email at blq@tum.de should you have any questions or wish to discuss your specific service requirements.

Sincerely,

Dr. Martina Gastl
